

DAVID GOUGH

Proud father of two very successful adult children employed as Engineers in Nova Scotia and Alberta, David was raised and educated in Halifax prior to having a successful and exuberant 44 year business career. He has worked with local start-up firms to U.S. multinationals in the high technology and business development fields, across North America and internationally.

Throughout his business life David contributed eagerly to his city, province and country by volunteering his time and energy as a founder, Director or Officer in many NFP organizations and industry associations that were focused in the technology and defence areas. As David heads into retirement, along with more sailing and gardening, he is honoured to be sharing his volunteer experience to assist the inspiring No Stone Left Alone team!

Living in Canada's military city allowed David to experience the Army Cadet life at an early age. He was also involved with the RCN and RCAF in local community and industry engagements, and then in 1995 founded and led the local aerospace & defence industry association (ADIANS) for many years. This was followed by being appointed as the Honourary LCol for the local CA Signal Squadron in 2011, followed by a promotion extension and two terms as the Honorary Colonel for 5 Div's 36 Signal Regiment until 2019. During this time David was honoured to receive the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal in 2012 for his role in promoting the CF and the Communications Branch and, through his extensive civilian network, actively promoting our soldiers in the community. He was a supportive member of the CFLC NS Council, a member of the Div Comd's CIG and retired with a Commendation by the Commander, 5th Cdn. Division. David continues his support of the military in Halifax as a founder and Director of the Halifax Military Heritage Preservation Society (www.hmhps.ca).

David is happily married to Sarah-Maria and they reside in Halifax, the Warden of the North, and home to all three services, the RCN, CA and RCAF.
